DISCUSS CRIME RACKETS IN U. S.

Astonished At Kidnaping
Rackets; Meeting In Chicago, Ill.

By CARL L. TURNER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
CHICAGO, July 28.—America, it is expected to cope with increasing crime, notably kidnap-ing, must approach the problem with the same good business sense with which it has forged ahead to become a great world power.

This was the consensus of famous European criminologists here today to attend the annual convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs.

Dane Is Astounded.

Valdemar Jensen, president of Denmark's royal government police, was astounded at the frequency of kidnapings in this country and the audacity with which predatory gangs defy the law and public opinion.

"A national police organization such as we have in my country," said Jensen, "would be of great benefit to the United States."

"With a population of three and a half million our royal government police force of 800 men and officers aids the local constabularies in maintaining order."

"We have the record of every noted criminal and it is not difficult to check his movements when he steps beyond the law. Our own men attend important trials in the different states, aiding local prosecutors and furnishing them valuable information that hastens conviction of confirmed outlaws."

Penalties Too Light.

Roderick Ross, Edinburgh, Scotland, branded kidnaping the "most vicious, most despicable, most tolerance of intimidation and reluctance of witnesses to identify and testify against kidnapers helped the racket thrive."

Dr. Antonio Pizauto, Rome's police commissioner, said the public accepted violations of the laws too lightly.

"In Italy," he asserted, "a crime of any magnitude is a crime against the country and against Mussolini.
When the culprit is caught there is no inclination on the part of the courts to release him."

PA NEW OBSERVES

Major Guy Wadlinger, who is a member of the Cascade park commission, evidently believes in "taking off his coat." Several nights ago when there was a traffic jam at the upper gate he performed ably as a traffic director.

Although there have not been many bass caught in certain parts of the Slippery Rock creek this season, some have been taken, according to reports. Some have been caught near Hamblers Rest and the Rose Point bridge.

North Mercer street, north of Sheridan avenue, which was placed in good condition last spring, is again in bad shape, residents of the North Hill, who use the street, assert.

AS JURY INVOKED FIRST DEATH PENALTY ON KIDNAPER

MISS McELROY KEENAN PROSECUTOR HILL McGEE ATTORNEY HARDING MISS CATES
For the first time in modern history society has imposed the death penalty for kidnaping. Above is a scene in the courtroom at Kansas City just before a jury sentenced Walter H. WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 28.—Well, the London Conference closed today. It just disbanded today, but it ended the day it started.

You will hear a lot of 'em say that it didn't accomplish anything, but it did. They stayed in session till every na-with each other.

There is no place in the world to find out the shortcomings of each other than a conference.
Now every delegation goes home and tells tales on the others.

We leave as the principal vil-

the banquet was a total loss.
Where is the next conference?
We just love to confer.

Extreme Penalty In Kidnaping Crime Needed, Belief Here

General satisfaction was expressed in New Castle when the Kansas City, Mo., verdict of death for Walter McGee, kidnaper of Miss Mary McElroy, became known.
There were few who did not favor the same penalty for kidnapers in every state, and among these people were those who do not favor the death penalty for murder.
The wave of indignation against kidnaping in this country has been felt here, and for the present at least the opinion of the average citizen seems to be that death is a just punishment for those who steal citizens from their homes and hold them for ransom. A number of prominent citizens were queried as to their feeling in the matter of death for kidnapers, and their replies follow.

Good Verdict
Mayor Charles B. Mayne: "The McGee verdict is a good verdict. The time has come when drastic penalties must be attached to the crime of kidnaping, and where it is done for ransom I am of the opinion that the death penalty is none too severe."

WASHINGTON, July 28.—
The gloomy demise of the mate that has been reached conference, paves the way

Part of this "new deal" in foreign

BAN PICKETTING IN FAYETTE STRIKE AREA

Peace Agreement In Milk "Strike"

Strike Areas Of State Appear To Be More Quiet After Outbreaks

UNIONTOWN STRIKE REPORTED SETTLED

(International News Service)
A considerable improvement in atmosphere was manifest in Pennsylvania strike areas today with an absolute ban on picketing imposed in the strike-torn Fayette county coal fields and with a definite peace agreement reached in the "milk war" between producers and dealers in the central region of the state.

The peace proclamation issued by Sheriff Harry E. Hackney at Uniontown, it was believed, would materially lessen the possibility of riots and clashes between striking miners and deputies which have resulted in approximately two-score casualties during the last few days.

Peace Agreement
At Harrisburg, a peace agreement for milk dealers and producers, specifying the use of state police to preserve order and setting up a committee comprised of three dealers and three producers to work with Deputy Secretary of Agriculture W. S. Hagar, indicated the end of open conflict. Disturbances in this region had been featured by milk dumpings on the highway.

Other strike areas likewise were more quiet. More than 1,000 Cambria county miners, striking because of checkweighmen disputes, were expected to return to the pits within a short time.

At Uniontown, 500 employees of the Richmond Radiator Company went back to their benches today following settlement of a week-long strike. The peace agreement was reported to include an increased wage scale and recognition of the workers' union.

Although hosiery manufacturers in the vicinity of Reading sought to reach a settlement by granting strikers all their demands except union recognition, union leaders scorned the proposal. They regarded the move as "a bribe to workers to force us to accept a continuance of the open shop system" quiet prevailed as approximately 14,000 strikers remained away from work.

Silk workers decided at a meeting in Easton to call a nation-wide strike on August 2, the day before public hearings begin on the new silk code. Russell W. Wood, Easton president of the American Federation of silk workers, estimated that 70,000 workers would desert the industry on that day. They are opposed to all codes presented thus far and insist "upon a living wage."

HOW CODE SYSTEM WILL BE ORGANIZED IN STATE; NEW CASTLE

regions of the state will be appointed. Appointments to this committee will be recommended by the two state chairmen. Actual appointments will be made by General Hugh S. Johnson.

Local workers will be organized in each city and town by chambers of commerce. They will include representatives of prominent groups. An executive committee will direct each municipal organization. These local units will be organized as follows:

New Castle Procedure.
The New Castle Chamber of Commerce will set up an executive committee. This committee will elect a general to have charge of the city campaign and a lieutenant-general, a woman, as his aide. The general will name three colonels, each colonel to have charge of a specific phase of the campaign in New Castle. One colonel will direct the "manpower", a second will direct publicity and a third will have charge of speakers.

The manpower department will be charged with responsibility of a block to block canvass during the closing weeks of the drive. It will be officered by seven and possibly more majors and seven or more captains, each captain with a company of eight or more men.

It will be the function of this entire temporary organization to talk industry, business and consumers into cooperation and display of the "NRA" recovery badge. At any time after August first, every consumer who is willing to sign a pledge to patronize only members of the N. R. A. may become a member himself and receive the official insignia of consumer membership.

General Johnson hopes to have the Pennsylvania state and local committees set up within a week. From then on a flood of campaign propaganda, all bearing the blue eagle of the N. R. A. will be sent to these state and local agencies. The idea will be, as one official puts it, "to plaster the town."

of the second defendant awaits only the selection of a jury.

Demand Death Penalty
The death penalty will be demanded in the trial of George McGee and a third man, Clarence Glick, who will be tried later. Prosecutor T. A. J. Mastin said today as witnesses were being summoned.

Joseph B. Keenan, special assistant United States attorney general sent here to assist in the prosecution, said:

"The government will continue to work shoulder to shoulder with local authorities to halt the wave of kidnapping. 'I think that is the best way to halt the crime. This verdict of death will serve notice on other kidnappers.'"

The convicted man maintained a sullen silence after the jury returned its verdict. His face was ashen as he was led away to a cell.

Miss McElroy, who was kidnapped from the bathtub in her home here May 28 and held for 30 hours until her family paid a ransom of $30,000, made this comment:

"I hope this sentence of death will help to prevent future kidnappings."

Hospital Wins In Opinion By Court

Smith-Faris Co. Cannot Recover Verdict Against Jameson Memorial Hospital

In the case of the Smith-Faris Company against the Jameson Memorial hospital and R. T. Withers and Son, Judge R. L. Hildebrand handed down an opinion at court this morning in which he refused defendant's motion for a new trial, but granted defendant's motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict, and judgment is directed to be entered in favor of the defendant, the Jameson Memorial hospital, and against the plaintiff, the Smith-Faris Company. Motion of J. Scott Morgan, receiver for R. T. Withers and Son, to strike off judgment entered against him is granted.

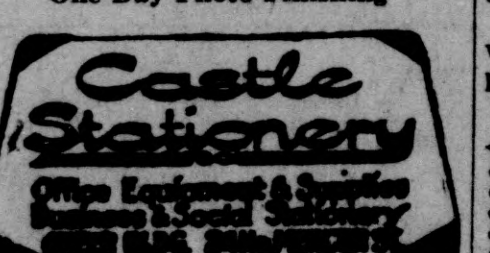

This case grew out of a scire facias issued on a mechanic's lien. The chief point involved was whether the Boldt Construction Company, which had charge of the work, was an independent contractor or the agent of the hospital. The opinion holds that the company was an independent contractor and R. T. Withers and Son a sub-contractor. The plaintiff, the Smith-Faris Company, having made a contract with a sub-contractor for work on the hospital, is not entitled to the benefits of the mechanic's lien act, according to the opinion.

The verdict which was rendered in this case was in favor of the Smith-Faris Company and against the hospital and Withers for $5,577.34, a balance alleged to be due for work on the hospital. Under the court's order for judgment for the defendant no recovery can be secured as against the hospital. The judgment is also stricken off as against J. Scott Morgan, receiver for Withers and Son.

EXTREME PENALTY IN KIDNAPING CRIME IS NEEDED, BELIEF HERE

alarming proportions in the United States, and unless it is checked with strenuous measures it will become more and more prevalent. For that reason I believe that in extreme cases, where the crime is definitely proven, the death penalty might well be applied. However, it will be difficult in many places to get a death verdict due to the fact that the kidnapers are racketeers. Knowing this, and knowing that they might be endangering themselves by rendering such a verdict, jurymen will probably be reluctant to return the death penalty as a verdict.

Horrible Crime
Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts: "I have always looked with horror upon death penalties for crime, but kidnapping is such a horrible thing, and the sufferings of the victims worse than death in some cases, that I believe such a penalty should be applied, where boys or girls of tender years are kidnaped. Mothers of kidnaped youngsters suffer worse than death while their boy or girl is in the clutches of the kidnaper. Apparently the crime is being committed by gangsters who know nothing but the rule of violence. In a desperate effort to curb the crime, I believe death should be the verdict for proven kidnapers of boys and girls.

A. E. Tullis, railroadier. "The McGee verdict should meet with the approval of every right thinking American. The time has come for Americans to stand up and fight the racketeer, the gangster and the kidnaper and one very efficacious way of doing it is to render verdicts such as this and make them stick."

Samuel Lewis, insurance agent. "I am not advocating violence but the time is here when we must use drastic methods to stop kidnapping. The verdict rendered on McGee is an indication of an aroused public feeling. It is a notice to gangsters that Americans will not tolerate much longer, kidnapping bombing and crimes of violence. The Lindbergh case was the beginning of this outburst of public indignation, the McGee verdict is the beginning of a treatment for kidnapers I hope."

James H. Elmore, salesman. "The verdict is a proper one. Kidnaping is one of the worst crimes in the calendar. The mother of a victim dies a thousand deaths while her youngsters are away. It doesn't seem vicious or wrong to me, to prescribe the death penalty for guilty kidnapers and then see that the verdict is carried out."

FOREIGN POLICY OF UNITED STATES FACING NEW DEAL

business promotion in the western hemisphere, among the nations of South and Central America, and to pay less attention to European markets. A long step has already been taken in this direction by the demobilization of the army of commercial attaches which Herbert Hoover built up in the capitals of Europe. More than 200 of these attaches were called home and go off the federal payroll the end of this month.

Trade Agreements.
The program calls for negotiations of a network of bi-lateral trade agreements with the countries of Latin America that are in a position to absorb the surplus products of North American industry.

As for Europe, the realists who are now engaged in promoting the program point out that she is now buying from the United States only what she has to buy and cannot get elsewhere, namely, cotton, tobacco, oil, and a few agricultural products. The European markets for American industrial goods, dwindling steadily since the hectic post-war period, has now virtually collapsed.

Tariff reductions, so dear to the heart of Secretary of State Hull, will in all probability be confined to these bi-lateral agreements between the United States and the various Latin American countries.

Plans Discussions.
The matter of trade agreements in the western hemisphere was discussed yesterday between the president and Alberto Paul, Mexican minister of finance. Other discussions will be held with Latin American diplomats in coming weeks, preparatory to the seventh Pan-American conference at Montevideo in December, concerning which the administration now has high hopes.

The farce at London may turn out to American advantage if it tends to promote success at Montevideo.

PRESENT SEWER PETITION TO COUNCIL

When council met today in the city building a petition was presented by Brino Kapcewicz, Shenango township. It requested permission to connect with the city sewer system. Permission was granted, subject to conditions and approval of the city engineer.

Correct this sentence: "I never use a joke without sending a check to the author," said the radio comedian.

MAYOR TELLS MAN TO PROTECT HIS GARDEN

Complaint reached the police station shortly before two o'clock this morning to the effect that a colored man was doing some shooting under the Gardner avenue viaduct.

The police investigated and found Clarence Moore, negro, of 217 Mahoning avenue and his wife asleep on some blankets under the viaduct. Moore had a shotgun with two shells in it, at his side. He was arrested.

His explanation this morning to the mayor was that the previous night some person had stolen a lot of vegetables from his garden and he was merely guarding against a repetition. The mayor discharged him and returned his gun to him and advised him to protect his garden to the fullest extent.

Robert White, city solicitor, today advised council when the body met in city hall that the city has no right to grant permission to L. A. Pearsall to erect a sign in West Grant street. The request was made about a week ago. Council will notify Mr. Pearsall of the solicitor's opinion.

DEATH FOR KIDNAPERS

VERDICT brought in by the Kansas City jury yesterday in which the death penalty was ordered for Walter McGee, found guilty of kidnaping of Mary McElroy, daughter of the Kansas City manager, some time ago, is a certain indication of the temper of the people of America at the present time.

The kidnaping racket has become such a menace that the country is aroused to an intense pitch. Drastic punishment is the demand of the hour. It is realized that death of this particular prisoner would not halt future kidnapings on the part of some criminals, but it is certain that this extreme penalty will go a long way towards putting a stop to the startling increase in the number of kidnapings that are executed and attempted.

Kidnaping racketeers should get the warning in this drastic verdict.

Once the people of America are aroused, and they are aroused, it will go extremely hard with any caught in this nefarious kidnaping business in this country.

TO END THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

Another amendment to the constitution is to be proposed when congress meets next January, the purpose being to abolish presidential electors and to provide for direct election of president and vice president by the people, but without disturbing the number of electoral votes now allotted to each state. Resolutions for that purpose, differing only in detail, have been introduced by Representative Lea, of California, and Senator Norris, of Nebraska.

The most important innovation proposed is that each candidate shall be credited with the same proportion of the electoral vote of his state as he receives of its popular vote. Mr. Lea shows in tabular form how this plan would have distributed the electoral vote in 1932. New York, having 47 electoral votes, gave 53 per cent of its popular vote to Roosevelt, which entitled him to 24.91 electoral votes. It gave Hoover 43 per cent of the popular vote, which entitles him to 18.80 electoral votes, and Thomas, the Socialist, having three per cent of the popular vote, would have had 1.41 electoral votes. In Pennsylvania the vote would have been divided 50 per cent for Hoover, 45 per cent to Roosevelt and three per cent to Thomas. If the election had been held on that plan Roosevelt would have received 324.66 electoral votes instead of the 472 he actually received. Hoover would have received 187.32 instead of 59, and Thomas 6.81 instead of none.

This plan proposes the introduction of the principle of proportional representation, for which a small group is agitating. That system, by breeding many small parties, has weakened representative government in several countries of Europe. It caused the breakdown of the parliaments of Italy, Poland and Germany and the dictatorships of Mussolini, Pilsudsky and Hitler, and it causes a change of government in France every few months. If deemed advisable we can do away with the electoral college without introducing this curse to representative government, for such the proportional representation plan has proved to be. To make representative government work, the minority should yield full power to the majority and acquiesce in its rule.

PRESERVING THE ANIMALS

Those vacationists who this summer visit either Glacier or Yellowstone National Park will see growing evidence of the work the national park service is doing to preserve species of wild life which only a few years ago it was feared might become extinct in this country. The thunder of pounding hoofs of great buffalo herds was an accompaniment to the taming of the West which still echoes in the ears of Montana pioneers, and which gives particular color to the history of this state. But there was a time when it was feared that the once familiar rumble of these native monarchs of the plains would die to the faintest echo and finally become nothing but a memory in this country. In 1902 the largest buffalo herd in the Montana region was that in Yellowstone National Park, which numbered a bare score of animals. Since then, however, under the careful supervision of the park service, a herd of more than 1,000 buffalo has been built up in this great national playground. No longer is there any fear that the buffalo will become extinct in their native domain.

In the last few years the buffalo have increased to such an extent that last year 200 of them were slaughtered for their meat. Indians near the park are now being given their first opportunity in many years to enjoy buffalo steak.

Another notable feature of the wild life of Yellowstone is its elk herds. Elk were once found in immense numbers over a large part of the American continent. The two herds in Yellowstone are the largest left in existence. There are a number of private elk reserves, most of which have been started from animals taken from the Yellowstone herds, and there are a few places on the Pacific coast where elk are to be found. Moose, which were once abundant in the United States, are also now increasing in numbers in the national parks. It is estimated by the United States biological survey that there are 2,000 of the Rocky Mountain variety of moose left in North America. Of this number, 700 are in Yellowstone, 148 in Glacier and 100 in the Grand Teton National Park.

These are only two outstanding examples of the work the park service is now doing to preserve for all time the various species of wild life which abounded in virgin America, and the extinction of which would have been an irreparable historic loss to this country.—The Montana Standard (Butte).

MOTOR CAR SALES
From time to time recently reports have come to hand of one industry after another showing gains over the last year. This makes pleasant reading after three years of continuous decline.

A most important one now appears. Motor car sales for the whole country showed an increase over May of last year. This is the first gain over the previous year since 1929.

This is especially significant. Activity in the motor industry reflects into practically every industry in the country. Furthermore, the fact that motor car sales are thus increasing indicates that the people are recovering from the depressed psychology of the past year or two, which tended to restrain every impulse to spend, and are now buying not only the necessities but the comforts of life.

South's Repeal Vote Raises Problem Of Liquor Control

Vote Of Former Dry States Foreshadows Doom Of Prohibition And Brings Up Question Of Regulation Of Liquor After Repeal

Action of three Southern States, viewed as strongholds of prohibition, in voting for repeal is held by the country to give promise of early rejection of the dry Amendment. Much attention is now given to the problems that are likely to arise in dealing with the use of liquor after its legalization. The press of the country urges public attention to the need of adequate provisions for its control.

"It is not so much what will be done to the 18th Amendment as what will be done after the States have discarded it as a failure," advises the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM. That paper gives assurance that "the control of 'hard liquor' will be the keener concern of the Administration and Congress, first following repeal of the 18th Amendment," with the conclusion: "That some plan comparable to the one employed by Canada will be established by the States may be taken for granted." The MIAMI DAILY NEWS is convinced that "it is the part of wisdom to begin now to prepare for proper control of liquor after education in its use," and contends that "to this task the more reasonable elements on both sides of the old conflict should be committed."

"There is much that the drys can do," thinks the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER. "They can lend their vigorous support to building the new condition according to the best forms possible in order to guard against any laxness or looseness that existed under the old order before prohibition. It is the duty of every citizen, whether he be a dry or a wet, to accept the majority judgment and on the basis of that judgment build the best structure possible for our social life. It is a truth that the wet regime will be permanent only to the extent that the devices set up to surround it are well worked out and in conformity to good conduct of our society. If the devices are weak and conducive to lawlessness, it is inevitable that the pendulum swing back again."

"Marked reservations" in repeal are observed by the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL, which says of the results: "There is a huge silent vote, dissatisfied with the experience of poorly enforced national prohibition, but waiting to see what the proposed new Amendment will do and how it will work. The referendum so far have been overwhelmingly for the wets, in comparison with the dry vote, but overwhelmingly only in a balloting in which a large majority of the whole electorate have not participated. It is a significant warning that the 21st Amendment, if and when ratified by three-fourths of the States, will be on trial before a jury of the public which at present is plainly dubious of its promise to regulate the liquor traffic."

Momentum in the battle against prohibition is recognized by the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, in the comment: "The wet movement will not stop at national repeal. Its momentum is entirely too strong for that. The disgust which the great mass of the people feel with the wide prohibition situation will make itself felt in radical changes in many States which were dry before national prohibition. Whether South Carolina will be one of them remains to be seen, but nothing is more certain than that there will be a strong movement for liberalization of the State liquor laws following national repeal."

"The strongest and soundest objection to the 21st Amendment," urges the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS GAZETTE, "is that it strikes down all power of Federal Government to legislate on the regulation and control of the liquor traffic for the country as a whole. What was reasonably demanded by opponents of repeal was a substitute Amendment taking prohibition out of the Constitution but empowering Congress to exercise such statutory regulation and control as conditions might demand."

In similar vein, the LINCOLN S. T. B. JOURNAL comments: "What have we gained by repeal? Repeal will not mean anything resembling progress if we go back to old unsatisfactory regulations and the saloon. The saloon has no defenders, yet its return approaches rapidly. The temperate people of the nation may well feel that they have been sold down the river for a drink of hard liquor. Repeal does

THE RIGHT OF WAY

Our graveyards are heavily populated with motorists who sailed along serenely under the false colors of the right-of-way banner.

Actually, the term "Right-of-Way" as a hard and fast rule to follow is an old-fashioned as auto cranks and linen dusters. It's all right when you have the right of way to keep going at the intersection, but but keep your car under control because the other fellow may think he has it, too. Don't place too much faith in him. If he doesn't stop as he should, then you must be able to stop or there will be a smash-up.

Substitute in your traffic vocabulary the axiom that there is a "Safe Way" for every emergency. Learn to depend upon the "Safe Way" and you will never be killed in a futile attempt to defend the right-of-way.

CAMP LIFE IS BEING ENJOYED

ON BOARD GOVERNORS' SPECIAL TRAIN EN ROUTE TO LOS ANGELES, July 28—"I thought it would be a failure. Now I know different."

That was the comment today of Governor George White of Ohio following his visit to three C. C. camps in Yosemite National Park. "I was against the reforestation plan," said Governor White. "But after my inspection with Secretary of War Dorn, I'm convinced that Mr. Roosevelt is saving the lives of thousands of boys."

"The boys are well fed, happy, and well cared for. I'm certain many have been spared from the fate of becoming 'drifters'."

A group of 200 Ohio youths in camp met and gave cheers for Gov. White.

not promise a new and better method of liquor control to replace the unsatisfactory control provided in the Eighteenth Amendment which in turn came to replace the unsatisfactory situation that existed before that time. All repeal promises now is a return to old conditions, and a backward step."

The PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN points to the fact that "Tennessee's poll indicates that in the State in which the closest fight has been waged to date, the turnout of voters has been proportionately greatest."

From this fact, The Bulletin argues: "It is desirable in the public interest that the repeal decision should represent the expressed will of the largest possible proportion of the voters, so that no doubt shall remain of the intent of the popular mind. For this reason those States that have fixed the vote for the regular election day next fall are likely to get a fuller expression of public opinion than can be obtained at special elections."

"The war on Federal prohibition takes on the aspects of an utter rout," according to the CLEVELAND NEWS, which feels that "the only sane conclusion is that repeal will be an official fact in 1933." This conclusion is shared by the WHEELING REGISTER, the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER, the TEXARKANA GAZETTE, the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, the COLUMBIA (S. C.) RECORD and the BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD. Possibility that all States will vote for repeal is recognized by the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, while the LIMA (Ohio) NEWS considers that "opposition is no more effective than paper dams against a great flood."

"Dry leaders are now in doubt," declares the ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS, "as to whether they can hold in line a single State. They have lost all hope of mustering thirteen States to block repeal, and are attempting only to delay the vote in enough States to prevent repeal this year. In States representing more than half of the population, State prohibition statutes have already been repealed, but so long as the rigid requirements of the Eighteenth Amendment remain in the Federal Constitution, those States are barred from the enactment of control regulations to take the place of the experiment that has failed."

Influence of the doctrine of States Rights is seen by the ATLANTA JOURNAL, with the declaration: "In no other region of America has the sovereignty of the States, each over its own affairs, been held so vital as in the South."

"In voting for repeal, Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee returned to a historic and fundamental truth of Southern statesmanship."

Gen. Johnson Is In Detroit

Says He Intends To Stay
Until Motor Industry
Adopts Code

TO CONFER WITH INDUSTRY CHIEFS

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 28.—Brigadier General Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of NIRA, today served notice on the motor industry that it must permit its workers to organize if they wish to do so.
General Johnson declared he would stay here until the auto industry formulates a code observing the "collective bargaining" provisions of the recovery act. NIRA motor industry has been "open shop" for 30 years.
The dynamic chief of President Roosevelt's gigantic industrial recovery program, arrived from the capital by plane yesterday, when it became apparent that some hitch had developed in the auto industry's code negotiations. He was to meet with the motor chiefs today.
He minced no words in describing the purpose of his visit: "We will get together in one way or another. I'll not leave Detroit until an agreement is buttoned up."
He declared he would insist that the auto industry recognize the right of labor to organize, and would recommend adoption of a 33-hour week.
The general plainly intimated that the labor union clause in NIRA is the point on which the motor chiefs have been deadlocked.
He revealed that two weeks ago he had made a secret flight to Detroit, where he held a conference with Henry Ford, and returned to Washington with Ford's assurance of support.

General Secretary R. L. Meermans said Fred L. Rentz, donor of the camp grounds of 26 acres, and Mrs. Rentz may be among the guests tonight.
The campers last night enjoyed several reels of motion picture film which Jack Boyles showed. A fresh coat of stain was applied to "Katie Did" lodge, rustic dining cabin at the camp, yesterday.

Seek Ruling On Home Loan Bonds

No Ruling Yet On Whether Or Not Insurance Companies
Can Accept Loan Bonds

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 28.—Charles H. Graff, first deputy commissioner of the state insurance department, would not commit himself today on the question of whether life insurance companies operating in Pennsylvania could legally accept home owners loan corporation bonds in payment for mortgages they hold.
"We haven't got that worked out yet," said Graff, explaining that the department may have to ask the attorney general for an opinion. First, he said, the insurance department needs complete data from the government on the nature of the obligations carried in the bonds.
"There is a question as to the legality of it," he admitted.

Police Warns Boys To Halt Work Of Destroying Signs

Chief of Police John F. Haven stated today that the destruction and mutilation of parking, stop and other street regulating signs must cease.
These signs are no sooner put up than they are bent and battered by boys until they are not only disreputable in appearance but hardly readable, he stated.
Other cities do not appear to have this trouble. He feels that the boys should have more pride in the appearance of their city to do this and asks them to discontinue.
However, if this is not stopped, it is proposed to make a real example of the next person, young or old, who is caught mutilating any of these signs.
These modern gasolines may be all right, but those old Spanish plumes used to go three thousand miles on a gallon.

Three Hundred At Annual Picnic Of Second U. P. Church

Sunday School Has Fine Time
In Grove Of Cascade Park
Last Night

Close to 300 people of the Second United Presbyterian church gathered in the Cascade Park grove on Thursday afternoon and evening for the annual Sunday school picnic.
Quite a number of the picnicers had already arrived at the park by four o'clock and the youngsters took to the swimming pool for a dip. By 6:30 o'clock when the dinner call was sounded, the entire crowd had assembled and was ready for the unveiling of the fireworks.
Later a series of sporting events were sponsored by the Y. P. C. U. The young girls and boys enjoyed racing contests, while the married and single men engaged in a fast (although dusty) game of baseball. The older men won but by a close margin.
The crowd left the grove at about eight o'clock agreeing that it was one of the finest church picnics in years.

Persons close to Governor Lehman expressed the conviction, however, that he will not resign the governorship "under any circumstances."

Old Time Costumes May Be Seen August 16 At Cascade Gathering

Wedding suits and dresses and all kinds of clothing that were the style back in the days, when New Castle was but a village outpost in the Western Pennsylvania district and which have been preserved most conscientiously by descendants of the original owners, may again be seen in all of their beauty and simplicity on Old Timers Day, Wednesday, August 16.

Jap Beetles Are Causing Damage

Many Experience Serious Damage From Destructive Insect Pest

HARRISBURG, July 28.—Many property owners in Pennsylvania have just experienced for the first time, serious damage to their cultivated and ornamental plants by the Japanese beetle and are at a loss to know how to control the insect, entomologists of the State Department of Agriculture say in their latest report on this pest.

Such plants as rose bushes, small cherry trees and grape vines should be sprayed with arsenate of lead, they explain. It is emphasized that the Japanese beetle is not an easy creature to kill, consequently spraying must be thorough and done in time to have a dose of poison ready for the first meal which the beetle attempts to take from the plant. On grapes, a Bordeaux mixture may be used along with the poison. The Federal Government has developed a spray known as lead oleate. This is described as the preferable type of lead to use on shade trees but should not be used on fruit trees or grape vines.

Certain traps for catching the adult beetles have been developed and are effective in reducing the bee-clothes of other days, a suitable prize. The thought is that the award should be made to the couple appearing in the most unique original old time costume at the grand march, which always features Old Timers Day.

While this plan had not as yet been definitely decided upon, the directors of the association are giving the matter serious consideration, and if it is decided upon as a feature, an effort will be made by a special committee to have many people present in these old time costumes and take part in the grand march.

Was Printers' Devil Is Now Millionaire

(International News Service)
LANCASTER, Pa., July 28.—Millionaire Hershey, chocolate manufacturer and philanthropist, started life as a printer's devil in Lancaster county at a wage of less than a dollar a week, it was revealed by W. Frank Gorrecht, deputy prothonotary, in an address before the Lancaster County Publisher's Association here.

Hershey worked on a German-English newspaper called the "Waechter" which was printed near Gap about 1872. The chocolate king is now looking for a copy of that newspaper.

It was published by Samuel Ernest, an Amishman who moved the paper to Kansas in 1878 as the result of a practical joke.

Senator Sheppard Leaves For Texas To Battle Repeal

Author Of 18th Amendment Declares Texas Will Turn The Tide

WILL CAMPAIGN THROUGH STATE

Texas To Vote On Repeal Of 18th Amendment On August 26

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senator Morris Sheppard, author of the 18th amendment, departed for Texas on Thursday in a crusade to "turn the tide" against repeal of the eighteenth amendment by retaining the Lone Star state in the dry column.

Sheppard predicted Texas, which ballots August 26, would reject the repeal amendment to the constitution. He waved aside the unbroken record of ratification in the twenty states that have voted on the issue.

"Texas," said Sheppard, "will turn the tide."

The senator took with him a huge sound truck, equipped with loud speaking apparatus. He planned to use the truck in touring the state of Texas, making dozens of speeches in every congressional district. He even will invade the home district of Vice President Garner, who favors repeal and who is expected to take the stump against Sheppard.

Leaders of the repeal movement meanwhile ridiculed the proposed plan of organized dry leaders to attack the constitutionality of the ratification of repeal in those states, where delegates at large were elected to the ratifying conventions. This dry strategy was revealed yesterday by Canon William Sheafe Chase, Episcopal cleric and reform leader.

Repeal leaders declared the issue had been ruled upon by the Ohio and Alabama state supreme courts, which held the election of delegates at large was perfectly constitutional. They admitted though that the United States supreme court never had passed upon this particular question.

His plan whereby the state would be divided into eight policing zones was adopted by the convention. A committee chairman will be appointed for each zone. Early Leaders Of Israel -- Gideon

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Psalm 27:1—"Jehovah is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 30 is Judges, chapters 6 to 8, the Golden Text being Psalm 27:1, "Jehovah is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
After God's deliverance of the children of Israel under Deborah and Barak, the land had rest from its enemies for 40 years. But the people again forgot God and went away into the sin of idolatry. The burnt child seemed never to learn from its sad experiences but rushed repeatedly into the same destroying fire. We read, therefore, for the fourth time, of that sickening round of sin, punishment and deliverance, of which there are seven cycles in this Book of Judges: "The children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord; and the Lord delivered them into the hand of Midian seven years."

Gideon's Call
So fierce was the oppression of the Midianites that the Israelites fled to the hills and hid themselves in dens and caves. Even so courageous a spirit as Gideon is found by the angel of the Lord hiding away in an obscure place trying to thresh a bit of grain he has rescued from his country's oppressors as the messengers of God came to commission him to throw off the yoke of oppression, saying "The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valor. . . Go in this thy might and thou shalt save Israel from the hand of the Midianites: have not I sent thee?" At first his modest soul trembled, pleading his own unworthiness and the poverty and obscurity of his family. To reassure his own soul, Gideon demanded certain signs of God and receiving these tokens of God's presence and power he dedicated himself to the service of God and his country.

Gideon's Consecration
Gideon began his great work by "first sweeping the dirt from his own doorstep." His first act of deliverance was a stroke at the idolatry of his own father's house in demolishing the altar to Baal and setting down the grove his father had erected as the center of idolatry in his own village. Thus he testified to his conviction that the nation's ills were fundamentally the result of its own sin and called for regeneration rather than revolution.

Sifting the Forces
Gideon's appeal to the nation's patriotism brought an immediate response of 32,000 men. Of the number 22,000 were indifferent and were sent home. A test was made of the 9,700 remaining. This was done by watching them drink water from a brook. Three hundred of Gideon's men were so keen for the fight for which they enlisted they would not take time to kneel down to drink at some comfortable spot but dashed the water to their lips by handfuls. These proved themselves worthy of God's trust. The remainder were sent home.

Lamps, Pitchers and Trumpets
These 300 equipped only with trumpets and lamps in empty pitchers, breaking their pitchers at Gideon's signal and displaying their torches gave the Midianites the impression of a vastly superior force. The Midianites fled. Gideon was victorious.

County Has High Marriage Rate

Stands Fifth In Rate Per Thousand and Population, Figures Show

Lawrence County stood fifth in the number of marriages per thousand and population during the year of 1932, the figures show, according to the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

There were 1,174 marriages in the county, the rate being 23.5 per thousand population. Bucks county had the highest rate of any, with 31.3 per thousand, Susquehanna being second, Sullivan, third, and Mercer, fourth.

The high marriage rate here and in Mercer county is due to the great number of Ohio couples who come over the line to get their licenses, due to the recent change in the law, requiring couples to wait a certain number of days after the license is issued to be married.

Air Of Nervous Tension Around Urschel Mansion In Oklahoma City

NEGOTIATIONS ARE NOT OPENED

(International News Service)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 28.—An air of nervous expectancy hovered about the Charles F. Urschel mansion today as authorities kept their distance to give kidnapers of the missing millionaire oil operator a chance to open ransom negotiations.

Answering an appeal from the distracted wife, Mrs. Bernice Slick Urschel, department of justice agents, police and newspapermen have withdrawn from the home where the missing man's family and associates have waited nearly six days for some word from the captors.

Urschel, one of the wealthiest men ever to have been kidnaped in the United States, was snatched from his home last Saturday night by two men carrying machine guns.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

IRRIGATE THE GARDEN WHEN RAINFALL FAILS

This year, as in most years, rainfall threatens to be poorly distributed during the growing season. Artificial means of applying water to the garden sometimes are desirable, when the natural supply fails, if highest quality as well as maximum yields are to be secured.

A few suggestions for irrigating the garden follow:

- (1) Apply water liberally, so that it will soak deeply at each irrigation, and avoid too frequent applications. Frequent waterings, light or heavy, are likely to do more harm than good.
- (2) Apply water as a spray or as a slowly moving stream.
- (3) Late afternoon, or evening is the best time for watering.
- (4) Very commonly the garden is watered with a hose. A nozzle to break the stream of water with a spray should be used. There are several types of rotary sprinklers to be set in the garden when attached to a lead of hose; some of these sprinklers will cover an area 50 feet in diameter.

Overhead iron pipes, containing small nozzles at intervals of several feet and supported by iron pipes or wooden posts, sometimes are used in irrigating home gardens. This method is especially popular with market gardeners.

ROGUEING POTATOES IS IMPROVEMENT PRACTICE

Lawrence county potato growers who are following recommended practices of buying disease-free seed annually with which to grow seed for the following year will improve the chances of their stock by roguing out disease in off-type hills. All growers who make a practice of selling seed potatoes are required

COVER CROPS IMPROVE SOILS THAT ARE NEEDY

While success depends largely on adequate moisture in late summer, the sowing of a cover crop in corn and truck crops helps materially to increase the organic matter content of the soil, conserve plant food, and prevent the washing and gullyng of fields.

Late cultivation is seldom beneficial to corn, and the early sowing of the cover crop gives it a good start before the corn takes complete possession of the soil and shades the ground too heavily.

A legume crop always is preferable for the cover crop. Where the soil will grow it well, sweet clover is very satisfactory. The seed is cheap and the crop more likely to succeed than other clovers. Sweet clover, however, should not be plowed down in the spring before it has started growth on account of the danger of its coming up again as a weed in the succeeding crop.

Red clover may be used where the chance for sweet clover is questionable, or a mixture of red and sweet clover may be used. Crimson clover is good in the South, but it is very likely to winter-kill in Pennsylvania. Winter vetch is excellent if thoroughly inoculated, but it seldom is very satisfactory at the first attempt, and if allowed to go to seed it may become a weed in later crops of grain.

Soybeans and cowpeas seldom are successful as cover crops and are killed by the first frost. On account of their large early growth they may rob the crop with which they are grown. Turnips and rape may be useful for pulling or late pasture but are of less value for soil improvement. Rye sown early may rust, but it is the surest and cheapest cover crop of late sowing. It may be sown after the corn is cut and still make a good winter cover.

CAN GARDEN SURPLUS FOR WINTER SUPPLY

Canning time is at hand with the garden rich in string beans, baby beets, beet tops, and Swiss chard. How good these will taste next winter, exclaims Miss Eleanor Drury, home economics extension representative.

A good product can not come out of the can unless a good product is put in. Only fresh young vegetables in prime condition should be stored in air-tight containers, either glass or tin.

Freecook vegetables and pack as nearly boiling hot as possible, using additional boiling water, if necessary, to cover vegetables in the containers. Add one teaspoon of salt to a quart for all vegetables. Place jars or cans in hot canner as soon as they are filled. The length of time for processing depends upon the product.

String Beans—Pick over carefully, string, wash thoroughly, and cut into pieces of desired size. Add enough boiling water to cover and boil for three minutes in an uncovered kettle. Pack in containers boiling hot, add one teaspoon of salt to each quart, and cover with boiling water in which beans were boiled. Process immediately.

In using a pressure cooker start to count the time when the pressure registers 10 pounds and process quart glass jars 35 minutes, pint glass jars 30 minutes, and No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans 30 minutes. In using the hot water bath have the level of the water over the top of the jars and tin cans. Start to count the time after the water boils hard and keep it boiling hard for two hours.

Baby Beets—Only young tender beets should be canned. Wash thoroughly and scald in boiling water of steam until the skins slip easily. Leave on at least one inch of the stems and all of the roots during the cooking to prevent bleeding. Slip off the skins, put into the container, add one teaspoon of salt to a quart, and fill with hot water. Process immediately at 10 pounds pressure quart glass jars 35 minutes, pint glass jars 30 minutes, No. 2 and No. 3 cans 30 minutes, or process in hot water bath for one hour and half.

A canning leaflet giving directions for canning all vegetables and fruits is available, Miss Drury says.

USE MULCH TO SAVE MOISTURE IN GARDEN

To conserve soil moisture and keep down weeds, mulches of straw, manure, leaves, lawn clippings, and sometimes paper are used between the rows of vegetables.

A mulch of straw manure is especially good for celery which requires a continuous supply of moisture and very fertilization. Cucumbers will be much more certain of yielding a good crop of pickles if stable manure is placed between the rows and around the hills as soon as the plants start runners. Straw manure often is used to keep tomato vines and fruits from touching the ground. It also keeps the weeds down, saves cultivation, conserves soil moisture, and usually prevents much blossom and rot.

Views Italian Planes At Erie

Mathew Gunton of Highland avenue who is home for a few days from his summer cottage "Fairview-On-The-Lake" stated today that on a week ago last Wednesday, he witnessed the flight of the Italian Aeroplane fleet as it flew over that district enroute from Chicago to New York. He and the members of his family were especially interested in seeing those aeroplanes in flight because of the fact that H. C. Lord of Erie, his wife's brother, is the inventor of a rubber device used in airplanes for the stabilizing of delicate instruments and devices used in the navigation of aeroplanes. All the ships of the Italian Air Armada were equipped with this equipment as are hundreds of other ships. It is said to be one of the best of modern improvements for the motorist.

The full terrors of the new kidnapping regime will not be experienced until the song-writers have had their fling.—The Roanoke Times.

Beaver street property owners residing between Edison and Winter avenue asked council in a petition to have a grade established on that portion of the street.

Fatal Accidents Show Increase In State Factories

Seventy-six Persons Killed And 7,308 Injured In State In June

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 28.—Seventy-six persons were killed and 7,308 were injured in industrial accidents during June, the bureau of statistics, department of labor and industry, today announced. Compared with the May totals fatal accidents increased 31 per cent and non-fatal injuries 5.8 per cent.

The sharp increase in accidents was attributed not only to constantly increasing employment but also to unusually hot weather which caused heat prostrations and other accidents.

Pointing out that the increase in accidents far exceeded the ratio of additional employment, Miss Charlotte E. Carr, secretary of labor and industry, announced that the department will intensify its accident prevention drive.

Belated Reward For Life Saving

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—It's great to be a hero, but it's better to know your efforts were appreciated. Thirty years ago, back in 1903, William Mitchell, of Havre, Grac saved the life of Benjamin Harman, deceased Philadelphia fur dealer. In his will which disposed of a $30,500 estate, Harman set aside a $5,000 sum for the man who rescued him from drowning.

Nations Of World Watching U. S. And Recovery Program

Senator Couzens, Back From Conference Says All Nations Are Interested

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 28.—The nations of the world, with the exception of the gold bloc countries, feel considerable confidence and hope in the American recovery program. U. S. Senator James Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, one of the delegates to the World Economic Conference in London, declared Thursday upon his return aboard the liner George Washington.

"While every delegate was in the frame of mind of watchful waiting to see the outcome of the admitted experiment, most of the nations were hopeful and expressed considerable confidence in the plan of President Roosevelt," Senator Couzens said. "The gold bloc nations were somewhat skeptical. They all, however, were willing to admit the good faith of the president."

Many Now Filling Up Coal Cellars

Anticipating higher prices for coal next winter many citizens have already started to have their coal cellars filled. As a result coal dealers are experiencing better business than is usual at this time of year. It is figured that with wage raises now being made in the coal regions it will inevitably mean higher prices next winter. Indications are that coal from country banks will also be in good demand.

INDICT CHICAGOANS ON RACKETEER CHARGES

Chicago Pushes Battle On Crime

Deputy Sheriffs Seeking To Round Up 24 Indicted Among Leaders

GANGS ANSWER BY ASSASSINATION

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 28.—Defying the police war against crime, four gunmen early today shot and killed Thomas Fredinoro, 27, alias Tony Rocco, a known gangster, in a North Side bar room.

Fredinoro had a police record that dated back to 1927. He was arrested Tuesday night on a minor charge.

Chicago, July 28.—While authorities pushed forward the war against crime on all fronts today deputy sheriffs were rounding up the first of 24 persons, including Al Capone, named in a planket grand jury indictment charging a gigantic racketeering conspiracy.

At Springfield Gov. Henry Horner launched the state on a determined offensive against crime and kidnappings particularly as sheriffs, police chiefs and state's attorneys from all parts of the state gathered for the governor's crime conference.

Gov. Horner will address the meeting of police officials, outlining his campaign for a concentrated movement to combat organized criminals. The governor said special attention will be given to the kidnapping menace.

Three, Under Arrest
Three of the defendants named with Capone in the grand jury indictment charging conspiracy to throttle trade by bombings, strikes, sluggings and acid-throwing were under arrest today as deputy sheriffs, armed with capisces, rounded up the men.

In addition to Aaron Sapiro, New York attorney who was arrested in that city, authorities here seized Sam Feldman and Jerry Donovan. They were held in jail in lieu of $10,000 bond set for each of the 24 defendants.

Alderman Oscar F. Nelson, a Chicago labor leader named in the indictment, was said to be in Europe. Dr. Benjamin Squares, University of Chicago lecturer, communicated with prosecutors here and gained permission to surrender after he had arranged bond.

Police officials began a nationwide search for Murray Humphreys, so-called successor to Al Capone, who was named as a major defendant. Humphreys is a fugitive from a federal indictment charging income tax evasion.

State's Attorney Thomas Courtney said he would press for the arraignment of all the defendants, including Capone, within 60 days.

Arrest Three For Using Dynamite

Constable Mee and State Police Round Up Three Young Men

Edward Cwynar, 19, Joseph Kolovick, 18, and John Krusick, 19, all of R. D. 7, New Castle were sent to the county jail for 15 days yesterday by Alderman James Brice. They were charged with malicious mischief. They were arrested by Constable Art Mee and state police along the West Pittsburgh road.

According to the state police the youths were using dynamite to blow apart steel castings along the road, several shots it is said were touched off Wednesday evening and on Thursday morning Constable Mee heard the explosions and upon investigation found the "shooting" under way. He made an arrest. State police were called and the constable and officers rounded up the other two young men.

They planned, it is reported by state police, to sell the pieces for scrap.

The place where the explosions occurred is near the dump, and adjacent to the highway.

Mention Couzens As Treasury Head

Many Would Urge President Roosevelt To Give Treasury Post To Michigan Senator

Woodin Is Likely To Resign After Conference With Roosevelt At Hyde Park

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The return of Senator James Couzens, Detroit multimillionaire, from his service at the London economic conference, today incited reports of his possible appointment as a non-partisan secretary of the treasury to succeed the ailing William H. Woodin.

The appointment of Couzens as Woodin's successor—whenever the latter retires—will be urged upon President Roosevelt by several congressional leaders, particularly from the group of independent Republicans who voted for the Democratic nominee last November. His selection, however, was certain to provoke bitter opposition from the regular patronage-seeking Democratic chiefs, who have been complaining for months about the paucity of jobs.

Woodin is ill for the past six weeks. He was expected to confer with Mr. Roosevelt at Hyde Park sometime next week, when the president goes to his old home for a short rest. It may be this conference will produce his resignation.

Friends of Couzens, who will urge his appointment, will rely upon the senator's vast knowledge of fiscal affairs and the president's apparent confidence in his ability.

On the other hand, Democratic leaders will want the treasury post to go to a loyal Democrat. As one Democratic senator said: "We won't stand for Couzens, no matter how much we admire his ability. The secretary of the treasury must be able to raise campaign funds and Jim Couzens, while he might contribute a fortune, wouldn't raise us one cent. And, any way, we are sore now because there are too many Republicans in high places and we can't get jobs for our own fellows."

Newbold, desertion; John Ciccarelli from Asunta Ciccarelli, cruelty; Sarah L. Eberstadt from Lindley Eberstadt, desertion.

Decrees in divorce were handed down by Judge R. L. Hildebrand as follows:—Victor Koivula from Katli Koivula, cruelty; Sophia S. Moore from Aaron G. Moore, cruelty; Anna Babiarz from John A. Babiarz, desertion; Florence McConahy from Edwin McConahy, desertion; Hazel M. Miller from Clyde A. Miller, cruelty; and Theresa M. Rice from Walter P. Rice, desertion.

Home Loan Bonds Will Be Eligible As R. F. C. Loan Collateral

By ROBERT S. THORNBURG
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 28—Bonds to be issued by the $2,200,000,000 home owners loan corporation will be eligible as collateral for loans at the reconstruction finance corporation it was learned today.

Under the law the home owners corporation may issue $2,000,000,000 in bonds which are exchangeable for mortgages on homes of the value of $20,000 or under.

There has been considerable speculation as to whether insurance companies, building and loan associations and individuals holding mortgages of residential property would be willing to exchange them for the bonds in the program of relieving the burden of the home owner and the amortization of his loan over a longer period.

Officials of the home loan board, which is organizing the loan corporation, declared that in view of the attitude of the reconstruction corporation in accepting the bonds that the purpose of the new relief statute would be carried out successfully.

No information was available as to the percentage of the face value of the home loan bonds would be advanced by the R. F. C. in loans. However, it was stated they would be regarded as any other security collateral, which was taken to mean that the market quotations would be the basis for advances.

The Home Owners Loan Corporation is now virtually set up. Within ten days it was anticipated that there would be organizations completed in every state and that the advance of loans would be general.

The treasury subscribed to $200,000,000 capital stock in the corporation. That sum is available in cash for mortgage holders who do not desire to exchange their mortgages for bonds. Chairman William F. Stevenson pointed out that the cash available will not go far in relieving the mortgage situation. He held out hopes that the Building and Loan Associations, insurance companies and other large mortgage holders would be willing to accept bonds, the interest on which is guaranteed by the government.

Board Of Appeals To Meet Tuesday

Will Hear Arguments On An Appeal Made By William
W. Walls

Matthew Gunton, chairman of the Board of Zoning Appeals announced this morning that the board would meet in regular session on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the city council chamber to act on the appeal of William W. Walls of Round street, from the decision of the city engineer in refusing him a permit to construct a gasoline service station at West Washington and County Line street, near Wesley M. E. church.

The permit to erect a gasoline service station on a triangular piece of property owned by Mr. Walls was refused on the ground that it was a residence district and so classified under the zoning ordinance of the city. The contention of Mr. Walls is that many people of the district would rather see the service station than the unkempt vacant property, on which there is an array of billboards. City Solicitor R. M. White has ruled that the board of zoning appeals has jurisdiction in the matter and may grant permission, if convinced that it is to the best interests of all concerned.

PET FIRE DOG KILLED

Laundry Racket Was Gold Mine

Chicago Prosecutor Finds
That Laundry Racket
Was Easiest One
Worked

GANGSTERS MADE ENORMOUS SUMS

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 28—Starting disclosures today revealed the "laundry racket" a veritable gold mine to Chicago gangsters dominated by Al Capone as investigators for the state's attorney's office moved swiftly to prosecute hoodlums who preyed on a legitimate business to the detriment of the public.

A large independent laundry owner who played a prominent part in bringing to light the operations of the infamous truck and transportation exchange and who will be an important witness in the prosecution told International News Service of the inner workings of the racket octopus.

"The laundry trade was picked out for the machinations of the gangsters because it furnished a fertile and easy field for the bomb and acid methods of the racketeers," he said. "The drivers of all the cleaning and dyeing trucks were first organized under the Cleaners and Dyers Chauffeur's Union.

"Then the union heads saw an opportunity to spread out. They went to the Chicago Laundry Man's Association and told them that if they would pay one dollar a week for every truck to the union they would 'take care' of the small hand laundries."

Thus, with 3,000 laundry trucks on the streets of Chicago, the information continued, the union officials collected $3,000 a week revenue. With that $3,000 a week as a starter the union organizers then proceeded to engulf the small hand laundries in the scheme. There are 5,000 small hand laundry owners in the city.

Pittsburgh Man Champion Caster

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., July 28.—The Jefferson county Sportsmen's picnic at Allahoe park, north of here, gave Charles Ward, of Pittsburgh, an opportunity to equal the world's accuracy record for bait casting. It was revealed here today.

Ward made a 99 with a five-eighths ounce plug to equal the world mark.

Charles Carl, of Beyer; Paul Abbey, of Tonoma; and Fred Heck, of Brockway, were the rifle and trap shooting winners.

Historians will probably speak of Hitler as "the man who held the destiny of a nation in the hollow of his head."

Photographers Accept Code Of Working Hours

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 28.—Manufacturing units claiming to represent 80 per cent of the photographic industry today advised Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, they will sign a voluntary agreement making effective immediately minimum wages and maximum hours of labor.

Their code of fair competition prescribes a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour, or $16 per week for 40 hours for male employees and 35 cents an hour or $14 per week for 40 hours for female employees. Persons serving in executive, administrative, technical or similar capacities are excepted from this scale.

Some men succeed in business in spite of the fact that they have nothing to guide them but their own intellect.

Bolton's Pinch Single Wins For Senators, 3 To 2

Bolton Bats In Tenth Inning With Bases Loaded And Accidentally Hits One

CLEVELAND TOPS CHICAGO 9 TO 1

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, July 28.—Some men are born famous, some achieve fame and others have it thrust upon them.
In the latter classification must be listed Cliff Bolton, Washington's third-string catcher, who yesterday fell out of the way of a pitched ball into the hall of fame.
The setting was perfect. It was the tenth inning, opening game of the current battle between the Senators and Yankees. The score was tied, two men were out, the bases were loaded as the result of three passes. Charley Ruffing was pitching for New York.

Bolton Wins Game.
Up came Pinch-hitter Bolton. As he jumped away from a fast one Bolton accidentally hit the ball, which streaked down the third base line for a hit. A runner scored and the Nats had a 3 to 2 victory. 8 out of 11 triumphs over the Yankees this year, and a lead of two games in the American league race.
Each team got only seven hits. Stewart and Russell pitching for Washington.
The Giants increased their lead in the National league race to five games by chalking up their fourth straight win over Brooklyn while the second-place Cubs, going to pieces again on the road after a profitable home stand, dropped their third successive game to Pittsburgh. The Bucs now trail the Bruins by only half a game.
Hubbell Wins 16th.
Carl Hubbell, New York's south-paw phenom, held Brooklyn to four hits in winning a 2 to 0 duel from Van Mungo. It was his 16th victory of the year, his fifth in a row, his eighth shutout of the year and the club's 17th shutout in 1933. Hubbell also increased his string of scoreless innings to 38-1-3. The record, set by Walter Johnson, is 56.
Hubbell drove in one run himself and Lefty O'Doul, subbing for Ott, chased in the other.
Larry French of the Pirates hung up his 12th victory in outpointing Charley Root of the Cubs, 2 to 0. Fred Lindstrom ran his hitting streak to 23 games before retiring due to a slight injury.
It was a great day for new managers. Frank Frisch made four hits and led the Cardinals to a 4 to 3 triumph over Cincinnati, their third straight win since he took charge. Walter Johnson's Cleveland outfit got back into the first division by swamping the White Sox 9 to 1 behind the five-hit pitching of Monte Pearson. Pearson, recalled from Toledo two weeks ago, has yielded only two runs in his last three games. Levey's double in the 12th enabled the Browns to shade Detroit, 10 to 9. Jimmy Fox's 29th homer failed to help the Athletics, who lost to the Red Sox 6 to 2.

Thanks to timely homers by McCurdy and Schulmerich, the Phillies nosed out the Braves twice, 4 to 3 and 2 to 1, and climbed to sixth place in the National league.

Helen Wills Is Still Winning

Won First Title Back In '23 And Is Still Winning Championships

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Little Helen Wills, the schoolgirl, won her first championship at something like the age of 14, her legs a little gangling and hair in two blonde braids. Miss Helen Wills, the debutante, won her first national women's championship in 1923, establishing a dynasty that has survived without serious challenge since her lone defeat at Nice by Mlle. Lenglen some years ago.
Today, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, the matron, sat in the lounge of the exclusive River club and announced that, in spite of dubious headshakings, notably by Mercer Beasley who seems to be the outstanding headshaker of the generation, she gives herself as much as ten years more of championship tennis.

Is Not Egoist.
Not as a champion, however. The young lady has reason to feel her share of self-possession. But she's no ego-maniac.
How long will she hold the title, then? Really, she couldn't say. Perhaps several years, perhaps longer; perhaps less. It might be that her time was coming in the national women's singles next month or even in the Wimbledon cup matches next week. It isn't that she has gone back, it seems; only that so many others have come on.
"Improved players? Oh, dear me, yes," she said, almost with enthusiasm. "Many of them. You might name the whole British Wimbledon cup team, for instance. They have all improved immensely."
Was she referring specifically to Miss Dorothy Round, who took a set from her in the Wimbledon finals, the first time this had happened since 1927? No, not specifically, it seemed; the observation simply included Miss Round.

Blews, the Coaltown hurler was found for 12 hits, with H. Mayberry, W. McKee and S. Shuller doing a lot of heavy clubbing. East Brook topped off a big rally in the sixth inning by scoring five runs.

Polish National alliance continued their rush for the second half title of the Lawrence county league yesterday by beating the Colored Monarchs 6 to 4 on Cedar street field. Mehalic was in hot water almost every inning but fast fielding by Fruitt and Baker helped him out of holes. He allowed nine hits and in the fifth Howard hit a home run. Young Yankees Take Victory

Young Yankees mushball team won an East Side Mushball league game last night from the St. Nicholas team at Gaston Park field. Dickson hurled a fine game for the Yankees, allowing only eight hits. The feature catch of the game was made by J. Mash in the ninth inning. The Yanks found Teplica and Hromyak for 15 hits, with F. Merando, J. Merando, F. Pezone, and J. Mash leading the attack.

Three Games In Mushball League

Three games are on tap tonight for the East Side Mushball league teams. The Oak A. C. will oppose the East Side Merchants at Rose Avenue field. Croton Merchants will go to the Radiator field for a game with the Rads. The Spencers and St. Andrews teams will clash at Gaston Park field.

Trainer Breaks All Field Club Records

All records for the New Castle Field Club golf course were laid aside in the cool quiet of forgetfulness Thursday afternoon when George Trainor shot a blazing 65 for the course, seven strokes under the par of the course, but actually 9 strokes under of what should be par, for the Field Club is not a genuine par 72. It should be 74 in the opinion of at least one former club champion.
Trainor was "hot" Thursday. Playing with Thomas W. Dickey, Jr., George S. Long and William Long, he started out in perfect form and kept it up through the game. On both eleven and twelve he overdrove the green, but got back without much loss. On twelve he sunk his approach shot.
His score will likely stand for many years for golfers to shoot at. Shooting par on the Field Club is an achievement, breaking seventy is something to dream about, but shooting a 65 is simply over the head of 99 golfers out of 100.

East Side Wrests Lead From Blair Steel In League

East Side Team Overwhelms Universal Pottery As Shenango Trims Blair

Once again East Side S. S. is leading the New Castle Golf League, defeating Universal Sanitary Pottery as Shenango tin trounced Blair Strip Steel, which placed the East Siders three points ahead of the former league leaders.
Next week's matches, the last in the league, will find the four top teams battling desperately for the cup, the two leaders being matched to oppose each other on the Municipal course. Blair Strip must win five out of the six games to win the title, which seems almost like a hopeless task, as the East Siders, with Mose Mancine, Willie Grommes, Matt Honkonen, Walt Vogan, Dave Aston, William Schoenfeld, A. B. Jackson, and Bob Vogan, are a most formidable aggregation. However, Blair Strip Steel also boasts a few aces in Tucker Nolan, Al Ingles, Dave Kay, Ed. Kelley, Jimmy Geddes, Angelo Vitto and Joe Panella.
The match between these two teams will be well worth watching. At the same time, Reynolds, Summers and McCann, who are only a few points behind in third place, must play Gersons, who led the league for a time, only to slip back near the middle of the season.
The results of last night's matches were as follows:
Shenango Tin, 5, Blair Strip Steel, 1; East Side S. S. 5½, Universal Sanitary Pottery, ½; Legion of Honor, 4, Reynolds, Summers, and McCann, 2; New Castle News, 2½, Bell Telephone, 2½; Pennsylvania Power, 4, Rieck-McJunkin, 2; Gersons, 4, Pennsylvania R. R. 2. Bill Nunn was medalist with a 36, while other low scorers were: Mancine, 37; Crombie, 37; Woodrow, 38; C. Kay, 38; D. Kay, 39; Honkonen, 39; and Parks, 40.

The league standing follows:
W. L.
East Side S. S. 43 18
Blair Strip Steel 39 21
Reynolds, S. and M. 38½ 21½
Gersons 35½ 24½
Shenango Tin 35 25

Fast Nine To Oppose Grays

Homestead Grays Appear At Centennial Field Saturday Afternoon

PAUL M'CULLOUGH TO HURL FOR LOCAL NINE

Gus Thompson, manager of the New Castle baseball club, which is sponsored by the Universal Sanitary company, believes that he has assembled together one of the fastest independent aggregations to represent New Castle in the past few years. The famous Homestead Grays will oppose the local nine Saturday afternoon at Centennial field at 3 o'clock D. S. T.
With such notable faces as Bobby Way, Bealer Fleming and Broski, together with George Byak, Jackie Reider, Paul McCullough, Jewie Coen and Mickle Huff, local boys, one can't blame the local pilot for feeling proud of his club. Every player mentioned above has seen action in the big leagues or in the minor circuits around the country.
Earlier in the season an independent team composed of local players was organized. The team played well against fair opposition but faltered against good independent clubs such as the Grays and the Akron Goodyears. By using several local players together with some out of town talent, Thompson thinks that he can present a winning combination for local fans. This is the first time the rejuvenated New Castle nine plays together.
It is likely that Paul McCullough will hurl and Broski will catch against the Grays. If fans patronize the local club some of the best attractions in the district will be scheduled, it was announced. Thursday afternoon the Pittsburgh Pirates were carded for an exhibition game here August 9. The game Saturday afternoon starts at 3 o'clock D. S. T.

SKIN CLINIC

DISCLOSES SERIOUS FACTS ABOUT FACIAL IRRITATION

SERIOUS skin disorders can be traced to facial irritation caused by faulty shaving. This is the positive statement of the Gillette Skin Clinic, founded to combat skin troubles arising from improper shaving.
"In effect, shaving is a surgical operation," states the Clinic through its head, an eminent dermatologist. "One cannot be too careful in the selection of shaving instruments and the shaving method he adopts. It is clearly established that faulty shaving is a serious menace to skin health. Be sure to use a sharp blade because a sharp blade is non-irritating to normal skin, whether tender or not."
This is Gillette's reason for exercising particular care in manufacturing the "BLUE BLADE". The "BLUE BLADE" is sharp—surprisingly sharper than other "makes" of blades examined by photo-electric process in a recent competitive test. It is made by automatic method—a product of machines developed at a cost of millions of dollars. Even steel hardening, a particularly important step in manufacture, is automatically controlled by exclusive process.
Buy and try the "BLUE BLADE". Learn its advantages by pleasant, personal experience. Gillette Safety Razor Company, Boston, Mass.

lar Sends Market LowerSELLING INDUCED
BY 2-DAY HOLIDAY(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 28.—The stock market opened lower today, unsettled by weakness in commodities and a further rise in the dollar.

Selling also was induced by tomorrow's holiday as traders evened up for the 2-day shutdown.

Largest losses were shown in the repeat issues. U. S. Steel, Auburn and a number of other issues were under pressure. Tobacco and most of the rails showed a firm tone.

Wheat slumped 7 cents a bushel at Winnipeg rallying. Cotton fell $1.50 a bale. The dollar recovered to around 74 cents gold as sterling fell 5 cents more, breaking under $4.48.

Opening prices follow: Western Union 62, off 1; Gold Dust 22, off 1/4; Commercial Solvents, 31, off 1/4; Borden 33, off 1/4; Consolidated Gas 53, off 1/4; Gt. Northern 28, unchanged; U. S. Steel preferred 99, up 1/4; Westinghouse 44, off 1/4; Johns Manville 45, off 1/4.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The recovery in the stock market was halted today by tumbling values for commodities and further strength in the dollar.

Considerable selling also was prompted by tomorrow's holiday, with traders evening up for the extended week end.

The market opened weak and then steadied. Early losses ran to 4 points. Steels were the weakest, followed by the firm shares and the repeat issues.

Support came into the list after the opening selling had been absorbed. Most issues scored partial recoveries but failed to carry far and the undertone was unsettled.

The big depressing influence was a break in wheat. Cotton slumped $1.50 a bale, silver lost more than a cent an ounce and other commodities were heavy.

The week end trade reviews were cheerful, declaring that the business recovery had not been affected by last week's crash in the market, but had little influence on the course of trading.

Bonds were firm. The market opened active but trading quieted down in short order and the list went dull. Trading was from 11 to 2 o'clock for the 5th day of shortened sessions.

In Tennis Play(International News Service)
SEABRIGHT, July 28.—The poorest men's singles final since Sidney Wood soft-balled Ellsworth Vines into humiliating defeat with the invitational tennis tournament served up to the local tennis colony here today.

Frank Shields versus Gregory Mangin, a combination which seems always to end in an easy win for big Frank, when the match is played on grass was the program's highlight.

Josephine Cruikshank and Alice Marble against Marjorie Sachs and Virginia Rice in the ladies' doubles final was the supporting fare.

Crowd Gathers
Around JailArrest Of Foley On Second
Charge Of Attacking
Girls Arouses CityPRISONER TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL

ELLWOOD CITY, July 28.—William Foley, of Wayne avenue, this city, is in the custody of state police at New Castle today on charges of attempted rape of a 21 year old girl here about 4:30 Thursday afternoon.

Foley had been arraigned on a similar charge before an alderman a few weeks ago. This girl's condition was serious for many days and has just recently been discharged from the Ellwood City hospital.

Foley was out on bail pending a trial at the September term of court.

Local police were placed in a serious position last evening following the incident. It was not long after Foley had been arrested by Chief of Police W. C. Morrison that an indignant and threatening crowd gathered around the local city hall and jail. The entire police force and three constables fully armed, were rapidly marshalled about the jail to prevent any forcible entry and disorder. Foley was doubly secure in his cell since it was located in a room having iron doors.

Nearly 500 people had gathered around the police station.

Foley was heavily guarded when he was turned over to state police from New Castle, in the custody of Private A. C. Hughmanick.

According to the story given police by the attacked girl, she had been going around the brow of hill near the Ellwood City hospital late Thursday afternoon, when she was suddenly accosted and tripped by Foley. He immediately clasped a hand over her mouth. The girl grappled with her attacker and succeeded in getting his hand from her mouth. When she had begun to scream Foley released her and ran away.

A number of men were attracted by the screams and came upon the scene as Foley was running away. Earl Schantz, Crawford Anderson, and Charles Orr gave chase and traced him to his home on Wayne avenue. Local police had been notified immediately after the screams were heard.

Chief of Police W. C. Morrison arrived at Foley's home just in time to prevent anyone seizing Foley. It was with some difficulty that he was able to place Foley safely in the police car.

Foley was immediately placed in the local lock-up and under heavy guard. An information was made against the man by Chief Morrison. He will be given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace J. E. VanGorder sometime next week.

Harness Racing Of Mules Is PlannedOwners Of Mules And Racing Equipment Are Urged To Plan For Fair

Harness mule races, while not entirely new, are returning to favor as features of race meets at fairs and this year, New Castle Fair, which occurs on September 19-21 will offer prizes totaling $50 a day for the last two days of the fair to the winners in mule harness races that are planned for those days.

The money will be split several ways, so that more than one mule owner can get in on the money.

The fair management is anxious that the owners of mules, especially in Lawrence county, prepare for these races and enter their mules. While there is a scarcity of carts and equipment for this type of races it is believed that there is still sufficient equipment of this kind stored away in someones bar to make possible the equipping of a considerable number of mules for these races. Owners of mules and those owning equipment required are asked to get in touch with the fair authorities and make it possible to stage two days racing of this type.

These races will be one of the features of the big annual show of the county.

In view of the program announced today it will be a notable affair. Elaborate preparations have been made and are meeting expectations. The feature of the afternoon will be a baseball game between the strong local B. V. M. team and Mahoningtown. The game is scheduled to get under way at 1:30. Following this there will be bingo, horseshoe pitching, Bocci, tug o' war, three legged race, sack race, and other events. Many prizes will be awarded as a result of the games and contests.

Another feature of the afternoon will be a band concert by the Italian Band of Ellwood City under the direction of Ralph DeMartini. In the evening there will be special music by an orchestra. Refreshments will be served throughout the day. There will be a number of novelty stands about the grounds. A special event will be the giving away of a large surprise cake.

Ellwood people going to the picnic can go by way of the Koppel bridge at a special rate. The cars must bear a B. V. M. sticker which can be obtained from the committee in charge, Angelo Squicquero, chairman.

Large representations are expected from Koppel, Wampum, Bessemer, Zeilenpole, New Castle, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, and Pittsburgh.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 28.—Class 4 of the Bell Memorial church motored out to Lakewood Beach last evening where they enjoyed a fine ham fry and outing. Fifteen were present at the time.

After a period of games, contests, and swimming the ham fry was held. The activities seemed to have worked up a marvelous appetite for those present for the ham was practically demolished. Arrangements for this affair were in charge of Miss Helen Mayne and Miss Helen Houk.

City Club's Ladies' Night Event Draws Crowd; Lively Program

FRED WOLFORD IS EVENING CHAIRMAN

A dinner, a music program, dancing and a hilarious evening of bingo were the highlights of last night's Ladies' Night event which the New Castle Kiwanis club enjoyed at New Wilmington, the most successful perhaps, of any entertainments the clubmen and their wives have held. The affair took place at Wyatt's Lodge.

Frets and worries had no place on the program but foolishness and merrymaking did. And from the time the group sat down to dinner—with chicken on the menu—until the grand prize in the bingo games had been won, dignified business and professional men, and their wives were not excluded, declared a "new deal" of their own such as hadn't been thought of before.

General chairman Fred O. Wolford steered the main events with the help of a competent—and we might add original—committee.

Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell pronounced grace when the 50 guests gathered about the festive board.

Prizes of all sorts and all descriptions, mostly appropriate comic tokens were presented to the bingo players while at another time a special ladies' prize was given to Miss Lillian Dietterle, a special guest and a gentleman's prize to Clement D. Parker.

Hear Music Program

Between the dinner and the bingo playing came a delightful musical program which the Fireside Ensemble, directed by E. E. Branstetter and managed by Attorney Gilbert Long, played. Their contributions included both classical and popular numbers. Two violin solos, played by Michael Caruso, talented New Castle musician featured. Kiwanian C. J. Callahan barked the bingo numbers while Alderman L. C. Mantz assisted. Mr. Wolford presented the many prizes, the last of which—five gallons of free gasoline—Mrs. Frank Offutt won. Playing continued till late.

There is a bequest of $100 from which the interest is to be devoted to the upkeep of the Sheriff Burwell lot in the Mercer Citizens cemetery. The remainder of the estate is divided among members of her family. Her sister, Mrs. Eva Robinson, and her niece, Miss Eva Lindsey, are made the executrices.

Controversy On Auto Continues At Harrisburg

Auditor Frank E. Baldwin Carries Fight Back To Governor Pinchot

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 28.—Auditor General Frank E. Baldwin was back today with a retort to Gov. Gifford Pinchot's announced refusal to approve a requisition for an official automobile costing $4,376.

Baldwin pointed out that the governor's figure included an allowance of $1800 for the old car and asserted that the proposed purchase would be economical when compared with the operating cost of the car he is now driving.

He lampooned the governor for the "very-special gold-striped job in which you made your spectacular trip to the capitol the day you were inaugurated" at a cost of $2,767.20 to the taxpayers. Baldwin said the "circus-wagon" was ordered by the governor weeks before he had authority and claimed that automobile purchases within a few hundred dollars of the figure objected to have been approved since the $2500 limit was proclaimed.

Sheriff Refuses Pinchot's Request

Says He Cannot Turn Over Strike Situation Entirely To State Police

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 28.—Sheriff Harry E. Hackney of Fayette county today declined compliance with the proposal of Gov. Gifford Pinchot that state police be placed in charge of the mine strike districts and that all other officers be withdrawn.

State officers already on the scene are welcome, Hackney said, but he declared that he had been advised he could not legally sign a waiver of authority.

Federal and state agents arrived to observe developments in the strike area today. They are Joseph Washington, special investigator for the governor, and H. D. Friel, of West Virginia, a government agent. Meanwhile, although picket lines were quiet, more mines continued to close as the strike spread. The Bobtown mine in Greene county, the Poland mine of the Vesta Coal Company and an independent mine near Pt. Marion were forced to shut down.

DECREASE SHOWN IN WOMEN WORKERS

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—Contrary to popular belief, there are fewer women wage earners today than a score of years ago, according to a statement by the Philadelphia advisory council of the state employment service.

The "enormous impression" has been gained, the council believes, because the women of today are doing more conspicuous work.

"The proportion of female gainful workers in Philadelphia in 1900 was 26 per cent, in 1910 it was 28.2 per cent and in 1930 about 25 per cent."
